Best Practices-2014-15

Yoga & Meditation

As a part of new curriculum which has been came into practice in the year 1997, a three day Citizenship Training Camp has to be organizes in nearby village. During camp, early morning student-teachers have to participate in Yoga and Meditation classes. A yoga expert has employed for this purpose. The programme was successful and students were experienced the fruitful result of such activities. That prompted us to introduce Yoga and Meditation as our beginning activity of the college before prayer.

Objectives

1. To provide the basic knowledge of yoga and meditation for student teachers.
2. To refresh students teacher's mind for classes
3. To help them maintain good physical and mental health.

Procedure

Every day before commencement of the classes student teachers will assemble in a hall and participate in yoga and meditation. The basic knowledge and training a provided by our physical education director. He also supervises the classes. Both yoga and meditation are practiced everyday for 30 minutes.

Impact

Though it's short period exercise, the result we observed was very interesting. Student teachers are fresh and look free from mental stress. They are started take active part in theory classes. They also started attending yoga and meditation classes without much absent. As a result attendances to the theory classes are also increased. We have been practicing yoga and meditation for students since 12 years.

Resources

A staff member with little training in Yoga and Meditation can handle the activity.
